WE NOMINATE

Bertha MacKenzie Eisenmann, who this week, as Princeton Township rings down the curtain on still another academic year, will not—for the first time in nearly four decades—be making plans for the re-opening of school in September. Behind Mrs. Eisenmann, whose retirement from the superintendency of the Township Schools became effectice last April 1st, stretches one of the remarkable longevity records in the history of Princeton Education, a record which in weeks gone-by has been warmly praised by the Township Teachers Association and by her fellow superintendents of Mercer County public school systems.

This lifelong resident of the Princeton Area, now approaching her 61st birthday, began teaching in Kingston in 1920, served briefly as principal of the Penns Neck School and initiated her 36-year association with the Township Schools in 1923. Starting as a sixth grade teacher, she advanced quickly to principal, became Mercer County's lone woman Supervising Principal in 1949 and three years later was named Superintendent of an ever-mushrooming system. Her tenure coincided with an explosive "revolution of growth" that shook the Township out of semi-rural somnolence and produced a complex school system with an enrollment of over 1,300 students.

One of the reasons advanced by a colleague of Mrs. Eisenmann's for the strength of the Township schools was her "special knack of being able to select quality teachers." When I came, it was recalled, "there were only about 300 students but a real, honest-to-goodness faculty. There was a core faculty, jostled, cajoled, coaxed and ordered by Mrs. Eisenmann—she was tough . . . We were well indoctrinated in Mrs. Eisenmann's philosophy of equal freedom, equal opportunity and equal responsibility. It was her belief that no matter what the situation might be, we must meet it with all the ability and intelligence we had."

Mrs. Eisenmann, trained in Trenton State College, Rutgers University and the Berlitz Language Schools, was a tireless worker. Finding time to do everything," she said, "is the greatest problem connected with my position." Nonetheless, according to staff-members, she made time during and after school hours to deal in her own way with plans of study, extra-curricular activities, administrative head-aches, reports and conferences. In the 1930's, when the Valley Road School was abuilding, she devoted an entire summer to visiting schools in order to accumulate ideas which might be helpful in the new structure.

A grateful parent recently wrote that Mrs. Eisenmann would do anything "to benefit a child"—in and beyond hours of school. Another admirer has described Mrs. Eisenmann's philosophy of education in these terms: "Teaching remained individualized; each child was treated as a separate personality." From Mrs. Eisenmann comes a capsule description of her own convictions: "Education should be understood as the drawing-out from a child rather than a putting-in of new knowledge. Original capabilities must be developed and considered in the manner of presenting subject matter." And, she has frequently stressed, "children should be praised, rather than blamed."

For conscientitous service to this community—often as a teacher of teachers; for her energetic and enthusiastic efforts in an area of education demanding the spark of conviction; for understanding that teaching is the "noblest of professions"; she is our nomi[illegible] for

PRINCIPALS NAMED

For Township's New Schools. June means commencement speakers and graduation exercises and a deeper awareness of the role that education plays in the life of a community. Appropriately, the Township Board of Education this week announced the appointment of principals for the Riverside and Johnson Park schools, symbols of ever-expanding educational facilities in this community.

Mrs. Alice Packard of Somerville, first-grade teacher at Valley Road, has been named principal of the Riverside School and Earl W. Hobbs of Webster Groves, Mo., has been chosen principal of the Johnson Park School. It is hoped that both schools will be ready for occupancy this fall.

"Mrs. Packard is an extremely able reading teacher," said Dr. William D. Purcell, Township Superintendent of Schools," and I believe that her appointment will strengthen our schools. Her experience has been in the primary grades and we have no administrator with that kind of experience."

The new principal has taught first grade at Valley Road since September, 1957. A native of New Jersey, she taught in Vineland for several years and then went to Columbia University where she did demonstration work in reading at the Lincoln School.

A specialist in reading instruction, she is co-author of one of the outstanding reading series in use in primary grades today. She is a graduate of Glassboro State College and holds a B.S. and M.A. from Teachers College, Columbia. In addition, she has won the professional diploma, "Supervisor of Elementary Schools."

Incidentally, Mrs. Packard was appointed to her new post on Tuesday, her 50th birthday. She is married and has three children, including a son at the Lawrenceville School.

The new principal at Johnson Park has been in Afghanistan with an elementary education mission, establishing and operating elementary schools and training elementary school teachers. He was chosen for this assignment as a result of his work as research assistant with the Metropolitan School Study Council, New York.

"The most outstanding teacher this school has ever had," is the way Mr. Hobbs has been characterized by the principal of the school in Webster Groves where he taught for five years.

Mr. Hobbs' field is natural science. He is a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, and he received his doctor's degree from Teachers' College, Columbia, in 1958.

REUNION REPORT

Essentially Most Enjoyable. Reunions weren't bigger than ever (the all-time record was the post-war year of 1947), nor wetter than ever (the two solid days of rain in 1953 and '55 were far heavier than last weekend's drenching but intermittent precipitation.) For many a contented Princetonian, however, they were better than ever, and the "biggest years" — 1909 and 1934 — both reported attendances that topped figures for the 50 and 25-year classes a year ago.

After a series of heavy showers Friday night and early Saturday morning, the P-rade made it in sunshine from Nassau Hall to University Field. Five innings after the Yale-Princeton baseball game began, however, the 7000 on hand had dwindled to less than 70, and those few extra faithful got a a drenching for their refusal to seek shelter.

Inevitably, the fortunes of the 5000 alumni returning varied. For most, it was a wholly nappy and enjoyable occasion; for a few, luck looked the other way. Township Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman, for example, went not to his 25th reunion, of which he was co-chairman, but to Princeton Hospital, where he recovered from an attack of kidney stones 24 hours after the last member of 1934 had begun the trek home.

Even rougher was the fate that befell 76-year old Charles Simpson, a member of the Class of 1905 to whom the University had assigned a room at 114 Foulke Hall. According to Borough Police, Mortimer Kelly, a New York resident here for the Class of 1960 reunion, dragged Mr. Simpson from his bed and hauled him bodily outside. The police report indicates that Mr. Kelly, who has been charged with assault, was sufficiently intoxicated so he thought he was returning to the room he occupied as an undergraduate (114 Foulke) and became incensed when he found his bed occupied.

On the lighter side, there was humor aplenty. Members of 1935 heard that classmate Roger Firestone has a new yacht called "The Tireless," while the P-rade was filled with many a chuckle-producing sign. Good sample: "Greetings from the Triangle Club. (Signed) Eddie Fisher."

When it was all over, the process of returning to daily routine was symbolized by a slightly weary but contented soul who had struggled down to his reunion headquarters at a fairly early hour Sunday morning. Searching for a missing member of his family, he remarked to others on hand for the last roundup: "I don't mind losing my blazer, my wallet and my voice, but I sure hate to go home without my son."

PERSONALITIES

Miss Lucy Busselle, 87 Lovers Lane, whose pending marriage (this Friday) was preceded by an event she will remember almost as long as her trip to the altar. Graduating magna cum laude from Radcliffe College, Miss Busselle won the top senior award, Radcliffe's "Captain Johnathan Fay Prize," worth $814 and given to that senior "who during her whole course, by her scholarship, conduct and character, has given evidence of the greatest promise."

James Maitland Stewart, Princeton Class of 1932, whose forthcoming trips to the University campus as a recent addition to the Board of Trustees will draw considerably more attention than the presence of many of his equally-distinguished fellow members. As an actor who has appeared in no less than 53 pictures since his debut in 1935, winner of a peace-time "Oscar" and a wartime rank of Colonel in the Air Force Reserve, he is no doubt already the most widely-known trustee in the University's long history.

ROUNDUP

If you have unwanted bats, Michael Menaker will take them off your hands. . . . Mr. Menaker (subject of a feature story in TOWN TOPICS some months ago) uses them for research purposes but lost his chief source of supply when a big barn that housed many of them burned down . . . a daytime call to his University number (WA 1-6600, ext. 772) will bring him to take them off your hands.

Another family moving into a new home had an encounter with fire in the process . . . three weeks ago a gas stove explosion seriously damaged the John S. Eisenhart home on Shadybrook Lane and on Tuesday of this week, packing excelsior caught fire in the garage at 196 Elm Road . . . Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy were in process of taking occupancy, with the house reported unharmed but the interior of the garage rather thoroughly burned.

Construction of the dormitory quadrangle planned for the tennis court area along college Road by the University got a big lift this week with presentation of a gift of $223,098 by the Class of 1939 . . . the contribution represents the Memorial Insurance Fund to which class members subscribe as seniors, with maturity occuring 20 years later . . . the sum not only set an all-time record but is more than double the amount raised by other classes as recently as five years ago.

Transportation problems of those using busses between Princeton and Trenton were eased with the announcement this week that private operation of the line will continue . . . for some weeks, Trenton Transit and municipal officials had conferred over the bus company's decision that it could not continue operation (for financial reasons) after June 30 . . . indications now are that a new firm is being organized to purchase Trenton Transit and that schedules will continue without interruption.

The wind storm that accompanied Friday night's heavy rain left some 1200 homes in the Princeton area without electricity for approximately an hour and a half, Public Service reports . . . damage was not caused by lightning, of which there was a great deal, but by falling branches striking wires . . . wind velocity as high as 40 miles an hour was recorded in this area, while rainfall in the 24-hour period ending Saturday midnight topped an inch.

Weekend thefts were committed, police report: Martin Katz, 91 Snowden Lane, had $100 in cash and another $300 in checks taken from his car, parked on Ivy Lane, while playing tennis Friday . . . a 1958 sedan owned by Frank Boccanfuso, Oakland Road, was taken from the Twin Service Station on Hulfish Street Saturday . . . both victims were losers — Mr. Katz hasn't had his money recovered and Mr. Boccanfuso's car, found in New York by police, is no longer in running condition.

Accident report (all minor, sharp in contrast to the anniversary of the Route 27 tragedy in which four Princeton area teenagers died on June 14, 1958): John Gaudioso, 3, of 90 Birch Avenue, rode his tricycle into the side of a car being driven near his home by Jarvis Cromwell of Morristown, John got a bruised knee.

Innocenzo Venta, 80, 97 Mountain Avenue, and Renny Travers, 19, 136 Alexander, collided Saturday at the intersection of Mountain Avenue and Bayard Lane . . . so did Mrs. Charles R. Davis, 40, 11 College Road, and Trentonian Arthur T. Keaten Jr., 25, at the intersection of North Harrison Street and Valley Road . . . Nelson L. Coughlan, 17, 295 Western Way, struck obstacles on both sides of Poor Farm Road at 1 a.m. Sunday, including a large rock and a tree . . . police quoted him as saying he might have stepped on the gas instead of the brake after being confused by the first skid . . . and another driver (from Philadelphia) rammed the Kingston bridge at 4 a.m. Saturday in the rain. No injuries.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES 683

At 212th Commencement. Before an audience of over 5000 in front of Nassau Hall, President Robert F. Goheen conferred 993 bachelor and advanced degrees Tuesday. Representatives of 43 states and 22 foreign countries won seven different kinds of degrees at ceremonies dating back to the 18th century.

Scholars receiving the 310 advanced degrees completed their undergraduate studies at 144 different colleges and universities here and abroad. Institutions on the roster included the University of the Orange Free State in South Africa, National Taiwan University, Banaras Hindu University in India and the University of New Zealand. The states with the greatest number of representatives winning bachelor's degrees were New York with 147, New Jersey with 111 and Pennsylvania with 75.

The total of 993 degrees awarded included 593 bachelor of arts, 90 bachelors of science in engineering, 54 masters of science in engineering, 11 masters of public affairs, 105 masters of arts, 22 masters of fine arts and 118 doctors of philosophy.

Honorary Degrees Awarded. Gaining honorary degrees at the commencement exercises were John C. Diefenbaker, prime minister of Canada; Jean Monnet, chairman of the Action Committee for a United States of Europe; Marian Anderson, contralto and delegate to the United Nations General Assembly; E. Laurence Springer, headmaster of Pingry School, Elizabeth, and a member of the class of 1924 at Princeton; the Rev. Dr. Marcus A. Spencer, minister of St. John's Presbyterian Church in Kensington, London, and a 1941 Princeton graduate; and Gilbert Chinard, professor emeritus of French literature at Princeton.

Others receiving honorary degrees included Dr. Mason W. Gross, president of Rutgers University; Clark Kerr, president of the University of California; Mervin J. Kelly, former president and chairman of the board of Bell Telephone Company; and James Gilluly, staff geologist of the U.S. Geological Survey.

Area Men Receive Diplomas. The degree of bachelor of arts was awarded to 14 Princeton residents. They are Richard H. Furman, 201 Prospect Avenue; Emlen G. Hare, 42 Fackler Road; James R. Hillier, 8 Autumn Hill Drive; Thomas S. James, 45 Vandenventer Avenue; John L. Kidde, 158 Mercer Street; Rensselaer W. Lee, 120 Mercer Street; William W. Lockwood Jr., 74 Jefferson Road; Robert C. Miller Jr., Princeton Pike; Theodore L. Shear Jr., 10 Orchard Circle; Ivan L. Strakhovsky, 24 Bank Street; David F. Sutton, 221-A King Street; Robert L. Thomas, 21 Elm Road; George W. Van De Weghe, Plantation Apartments, R. D. 3; and David R. Winans, 261 Mountain Avenue.

Gaining bachelor of science degrees in engineering were Robert E. Hicks, 129 East Ward Street, Hightstown, and Peter H. Bauer, Mount Rose Road, Pennington.

RESIDENTS PROTEST

Terhune's Inclusion in "Loop." Protesting the inclusion of Terhune Road as part of the Township Master Plan's "Loop Road," 13 home-owners who live on Terhune between Jefferson and Ewing, have submitted a petition to Ralph S. Mason, Planning Board chairman, asking that Terhune be kept "a residential lane."

(The Planning Board was scheduled to meet Wednesday night to consider the alignment of future roads as sketched in the Master Plan.)

"Why all the haste?" said M. Lawrence Bayern, 152 Terhune, speaking for the petitioners. "There's no need to decide these matters by July 1." (The Board's target date for adoption of the plan).

In communications with Mr. Mason and with R. Kenneth Fairman, Township Mayor, the Terhune Road residents express the fear that Terhune would become a treeless highway. The petition urges the removal of the "loop" road to the outskirts of the Township in order to protect Terhune and to provide easier access to research firms which might locate in the area zoned for research by the Master Plan.

PHS GRADUATES 296

In McCarter Wednesday. "The Past in Our Future" was the theme of Princeton High School's commencement at McCarter Theatre Wednesday night. Speeches on that general topic were delivered by Fred Osborne, Blake Smith, Ene-Kaja Harm, Nancy Strayer, Diane Terry and John Roberts. The authors were Blake Smith, Jane Bachelder, Barbara DeZwart, Helen Harbison, Charlotte Slider and Barbara Perkins.

Diplomas were presented to the 296 graduates by Graham Rohrer, president of the Board of Education, while Irving W. Mershon, board secretary, presented scholarships. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Kenneth Dannenhauer. Arnold Skaar, president of the senior class, gave the address of welcome and officiated at the flag ceremony, assisted by flag bearers George Adams and Dennis Wilson.

Senior choir members performed "Our Hopes Shall We Sing," an original composition by Helen Harbison and Mrs. Matilde McKinney. Poetry written by Helen Harbison and Barbara Perkins was recited by a verse-speaking choir including Bonnie Bowers, Susan Craig, Carl Frederiksen, Mary Lewis, Fred Osborne, Edward Stromgren, William Weissenburger and Rose Marie Zecola.

The processional and recessional were played by the high school symphonetta band, directed by Walter R. Horner, while the senior chorus, directed by Thomas Hilbish, performed "The Lord's Prayer." Susan Craig accompanied the chorus.

Members of the senior commencement committee were Helen Harbison, chairman, Dale Anderson, Alice Bach, Jane Bachelder, Barbara DeZwart, Carl Frederiksen, Barbara Perkins, Charlotte Slider and Blake Smith. Miss Louise Osgood was faculty adviser and Mrs. Wilma Harris served as speech director.

Graduates are Carolyn P. Alden, Dale K. Anderson, William L. Anderson, Braith Archer, Arlene A. Asendorf, Philip K. Ashby, Richard V. Atkinson, Alice H. Bach, Jane A. Bachelder, Patricia V.M Bagley, Isle Bajars, David B. Baldwin, Arthur W. Barclay, Mary E. Barksdale, Franklyn H. Barlow Jr., Richard R. Bassett, Susan Bennett, Linda M. Berry, Elizabeth L. After what June has brought in the first three weeks, the Weather Man was making no promises about the future. From a high of 92 less than ten days ago, the thermometer had skidded all the way to 51 and blankets were in fashion again.

A big low pressure system off the coast this week brought a full supply of dark clouds and light showers, and another was on the way eastward from the plain states. Cool was the word for the weekend, even with summer beginning officially at 9:50 Sunday night. With rainfall for the month already near normal for the full 30-day period, little more was in immediate sight.

In addition, we can incorporate any further measures your doctor may wish

PRE-BROADWAY SHOW SAGS

"A Lovely Light" at McCater. When the house-lights went down in McCarter Theater on Friday evening and the stage darkened and the face of Dorothy Stickney appeared, almost magically, lighted by a single, strong spotlight, there was a quiver of excitement and anticipation in the audience, an expectation that the intensity and passion of Edna S. Vincent Millay would be evoked in the same way that the image of Dylan Thomas had been evoked by Emlyn Williams.

But Miss Stickney is not Mr. Williams and her poetess does not have the Thomas genius. The actress has chosen to tell the story of Miss Millay's life by arranging her poems and letters in a three-act chronology. The poems appear, not necessarily in order of composition, but as they serve to tell the Millay story. And in between are the letters.

Miss Stickney, operating between a desk (right) and a red velvet loveseat (left center) recites the Millay meters and does them well, so far as interpretation goes. But she has a thin, rather flat voice which does not wear well for three acts in which no other voice is heard.

In addition, she is handicapped by the fact that Vincent Millay, the poet of "God-the-pain-of-it-all", was a very folksy letter-writer. Some of the letters have a spark of wit or wryness, but all too many have a "guess-what!" air which becomes quite trying.

Miss Stickney reads almost all of them with a kind of calico archness, in jarring contrast to the way she approaches the poignancy of some of the Millay lyrics.

Presumably this device is used to point up the cheerful front Miss Millay showed to her family even though her nerves and her heart were breaking, but three acts is a long evening.

Miss Stickney might be better off if she used a lectern, or stood in one spot before the audience and abandoned the restless pacing between desk and loveseat. It is doubtful whether her small voice could sustain an entire evening in this manner, but the material needs cutting, anyway.

It is unfortunate, too, that the dates on the letters must be read in order to place Miss Millay's life in chronological order. The audience, having heard, "December 16, 1926", "April 4, 1928", soon begins to calculate the number of years before Miss Miller's death in 1950 and to wander just how much more letter-writing the poet did. When an audience begins to look at its watch, the production dies.

WILL DIRECT "PLAYBOY": Philip Minor, veteran director with the University Players, returns this year to stage "Playboy of the Western World," by J. M. Synge. The play opens at Murray Theatre June 27.

If Miss Stickney read the poems, used briefer excerpts from the letters and gave up such embarrassing pantomimes as a young girl filled with glory at the sight of an autumn morning, her "Lovely Light" might shine with a stronger, truer glow.

PLAYERS LIST SYNGE WORK

Will Open June 27. The University Players' first production of the summer, J. M. Synge's "Playboy of the Western World," will open on Saturday, June 27, and run through Saturday, July 4, at Murray Theatre on the Princeton campus. All performances begin at 8:30.

"Playboy," directed by Philip Minor, will feature Peter Falk, who gained recognition two years ago for his portrayal of Stanley in the Players' production of "A Streetcar Named Desire." Single or season tickets and information may be obtained from the University Players, Murray Theatre, (WA 4-3539.)

Following the close of "Playboy," the Players will present Molnar's "The Play's the Thing" from July 7-11; Beckett's "Waiting for Godot," July 14-18; Shaw's "The Philanderer," July 21-25, and Kanin's "Born Yesterday," July 28-August 1. August productions will include Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," Wilson's "The Boy Friend" and a group of three one-act plays.

In conjunction with Princeton's first summer festival the Players have scheduled a series of Monday evening concerts, beginning July 6 with the appearance of Pearl Primus and her company of dancers and musicians. The concerts will take place in 10 McCosh Hall.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Woman Obsessed (June 17-20) is pretty weak, especially when you consider the enormous amount of talent wasted in it. The cast, headed by Susan Hayward, includes Stephen Boyd, Barbara Nichols and such tried-and-true supporting players as Theodore Bikel and Fred Graham. The screenplay, penned by Sidney Boehm from a novel by John Mantley, is a thin, pointless, melodramatic mishmash, written in an obvious attempt to capitalize on the seemingly endless series of pictures, some of them very good, in which Miss Hayward has portrayed a frowzy, put-upon but good-as-gold underneath wench. Now that she's won her Academy Award for this role, you'd think she would be allowed to shelve it for a couple of months, anyway.

The setting, at least, is different this time — the action takes place in the Pacific Northwest — and the film is in CinemaScope and color. The plot involves the problems that arise when Miss Hayward, a frontier widow, marries A Man She Does Not Love in order to provide a father for her button-cute seven-year-old son, and to have a man around the farm. Nothing very out of the ordinary happens, although Miss Hayward and her cohorts display their habitual quota of writhing energy.

Pork Chop Hill (June 21-23), directed by Lewis Milestone, is a worthy successor to Milestone's earlier efforts, "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "A Walk in the Sun." With a fine all-male cast featuring Gregory Peck, the film is a taut, relentless exposition of the peculiar horrors of the Korean War. Peck's platoon is charged with taking Pork Chop Hill, a land rise considered extremely valuable to the enemy. The fact that peace talks are progressing at a snail's pace in Panmunjom always hovers in the background, painting up the vast difference between the men who plan wars and those who fight them.

The nerve-tearing preparations for the assault are presented in detail, as an enemy loudspeaker blares awareness of U.S. plans and urges the Americans to give up rather than risk their lives in the apparently hopeless attack. This is certainly the best film to come out of the Korean conflict, and its story is as engrossing as its message is important. The film's comments on the ineptness of the management of the Korean War generalize themselves into a deeply serious statement on all wars. Recommended.

Sleeping Beauty (June 24-30) is another technically perfect Walt Disney animation, thise time in ultra-widescreen Technirama and Technicolor. The film took six years to make, and shows it. In its emotional impact, however, the picture strengthens our attachment to the minority view that when Disney meets a fairy-tale, the fairy-tale often comes out second-best.

The story hews with reasonable closeness to the traditional tale. When she is not invited to Princess Aurora's christening, the Fairy-Witch casts a spell on the little princess. According to the spell, before her 16th birthday the princess will suffer a spinning-wheel cut and will be put into an everlasting sleep. The good fairies, hoked up by Disney into a jolly threesome named Flora, Fauna and Merryweather, try to prevent this, but the cut comes as predicted on the eve of Aurora's 16th birthday. The rest of the plot concerns the Fairy-Witch's attempts to keep Prince Philip from kissing Aurora and thus breaking the spell.

Perhaps our strongest objection to all this lies in the gratui-

Hama Again

The Meyme Mead Shop has been back in its 200 Nassau Street home for several weeks now and you'd never know the place was once a smoking shell.

Pale grey-blue walls, full antique-white drapes, a cheerful brass and frosted class chandelier, that handsome rag rug on the floor again and a brisk red cushion on the pine settee.

In the back room, there are new racks, more space, the jewel cabinet, egg-crate lighting fixtures that make any woman look like a young chick, and a full-length three way mirror.

Having a fire is certainly choosing the hard way to redecorate, but maybe it was worth it.

IT'S NEW To Us

SILK, PIQUE AND VOILE

Or, the Waffle and the Endive. The waffle appears at Meyme Mead this summer in a white pique wrap around dress with no sleeves. The weave is diamond shaped, the skirt is straight, in spite of its wrap. Over the sleeveless top, you wear a twelve-inch cape that slips over your head and rests on your bare shoulders.

Waffle pique appears again, square this time, in a white cocktail dress with two-inch unpressed pleats falling from a narrow yellow cummerbund. Yellow and green embroidered cat-tails spring up out of the belt to grow on the bodice, embroidery combined with appliques of short, tight fringe to make realistic foliage. Aside from the embroidery, the bodice is plain with one-inch shoulder straps.

A straight sheath, cap-sleeved, is made of white silk, lined, with a print of royal blue and pale blue (or rose) carnations. At the left shoulder there is a corsage of carnations, cut out and appliqued to the dress fabric.

For $25, Meyme Mead offers juniors a voile print right out of Jane Austen, with full skirt, softly shirred belt, a wide boat neck and elbow sleeves held in a big puff by elastic. The print is an off-focus blue and purple, shadowy without being insipid.

Cross-checks of a curious green-beige appear on a suit of silk-like cotton. The designer calls the color "endive," but you never saw this in a super-market. The dress skirt and jacket are criss-crosses, and the blouse top of the dress is the palest green-grey-yellow. Well, endive. Blouse is silk with a modified cowl collar which turns over the collarless jacket.

Unpressed pleats swirl softly from the waistline of a navy chiffon dress, ready to be worn the year 'round. It has three-quarter sleeves, small navy satin bows at the waist, a gentle "U" neckline and a lining that stops in time to make a heart-shaped outline below the actual neckline.

Take Along A Book. The suggestion comes from The Book Mart on Palmer Square, but you've probably thought of it yourself already.

Hamilton Basso's "Light Infantry Ball" is a good one for a hammock, those outdoor cookbooks are good for a grill, anything in the children's department is good for an eager little mind.

"Lady Chatterly's Lover" is at the Book Mart, but don't mail it to a friend or the Postmaster will be cross.

If someone in your family is getting married or starting a family, you might like to invest $50 in the pater families of all family Bibles. It is a Protestant King James (a Douay will be published later) bound in black leather boards about 10 x 14 inches by four inches thick.

In the front are pages for recording marriages, service in the armed forces, births and so on. There are also 95 full page color plates from El Greco, Bosch, Rembrandt, Leonardo and so on.

Another investment purchase might be the new Macmillan Encyclopedia, 12 volumes for $59.95. The volumes are small enough to hold comfortably in the hand, printed with a closely spaced type that crams a lot of information into a little space.

Back in the children's corner, the Book Mart has the Caldecott Medal winner, "Chanticler and the Fox" by Barbara Cooney. This story, adapted from part of the "Canterbury Tales," won the Caldecott Medal for the excellence of its illustrations, and it would be delightful for the four to eight year old.

A child from eight to 12 will be absorbed by the "Japanese Tales and Legends", printed in big, fast type with pleasant woodcuts in the Japanese manner. Adults will appreciate the fact that it comes from the Oxford Series of folk tales.

In the "I-Can-Read" series,

there are now six books, all designed for children to pick up the minute they come home from the first day in first grade. The texts are easy as primers, but considerably livelier (Sammy the Seal, for example, is quite a boy) and the drawings are a good bit more raffish than the ones in school books.

Have a Shirr-Bit. Edith's Lingerie Shop on Chambers Street, which offered guns in garters last time we looked in, now has something by Lily of France called a Shirr-Bit. This is a summer panty made of puckered nylon, shirred in with elastic to make just the suggestion of a girdle.

The back stretches only one way and the front has a diamond-shaped panel about a sixteenth of a karat in size. Net ruffles round the shirt little legs and embroidery on the front panel. Pastels.

A more earnest garment is the strapless all-in-one with front zipper, deeply cut front neckline and a very low back. The top has been done with a lot of lace and net that provide a pleasing lingerie touch. $18.50.

Warner produces an all-net bra with satin straps for summer and a junior strapless with cross back straps of perforated rubber to keep things in place. It's $3.95. The senior strapless is almost the same except that there is only one, broad back strap and a broader price tag: $6.50.

Dacron and cotton combine in a gown and matching robe of white with blue embroidery. There are narrow straps, a fitted, charmingly embroidered bodice, a robe with a short puffed sleeves and a soft little collar. The set is $14.95. A similar ensemble uses pink hows here and there instead of blue embroidery.

A nylon tricot gown has lace straps and a lace camisole top with satin band at waist. It's white, of course, with matching robe topped by a broad, ruffled collar. A full eight inches wide. Lace edges both gown and sleeves.

For boiling eggs at 7 a.m., Edith's suggests a golden yellow pinafore in no-iron cotton. It has a white eyelet ruffle over its shoulders and down the back and enough cheer to brighten anyone's cup of coffee.

Another pinafore, or "patio robe", buttons from waist up to neckline. It's sleeveless and quite appropriate for the street, if you wish.

The coachman style has been used for a summer robe, sleeveless, made in a jacquard stripe of pale blue. No ironing here. And travelers will want a classic travel robe in silk paisley, cut to short coachman or duster style.

IMITATION OF LIFE: Starring Lana Turner and John Gavin, this color production will run for a week at the Lawrence Drive-In Theater, Route 1, beginning Friday.

tous sadism thrown in the character of the Fairy-Witch. This crone is far more terrifying evil than the plot requires, and the film's message of Good triumphing over Evil is likely to be lost in the face of her massive powers. Young moviegoers will no doubt respond to "Sleeping Beauty" with the entrancement Disney always inspires in them, but it might be wise to prepare them with a cautionary lecture as to the fictional quality of the film's events.

THE GARDEN

Gidget (June 18-20) is a premeditated attempt by Columbia Pictures to foist a whole covey of its new "stars" on the public in one great adolescent splurge. Since all of the featured performers are on the young side, the picture is by necessity concerned with the lives and loves of the teen set, and, as these things go, it has a certain amount of appeal. Neither the story nor the acting will incite any reasonably sophisticated moviegoer to give ecstatic praise, but all the principals (Sandra Dee, James Darren and Cliff Robertson) are personable and full of fun.

The story involves Miss Dee's awakening to Teenage Love. A backward girl, in that she is 16 and hasn't yet Gone Steady, Miss Dee is taken to the beach by a group of her more advanced girlfriends. Her first trip is relatively unsuccessful because she would rather swim than flirt, but eventually she comes around and falls in love with Darren. In between the episodes of her litter-strewn path to true happiness Miss Dee learns to water-ski and several songs are sung. One of them, the title tune, is performed admirably by Darren, who is one of the more musically young singers of the day and who will be even better as soon as he perfects his imitation of Frank Sinatra. The film is in CinemaScope and Eastman Color.

Les Girls (June 22-24) is a couple of years old, but it wears its age at a rakish angle. The Cole Porter musical, which is in CinemaScope and MetroColor, stars Gene Kelly, Mitzi Gaynor, Kay Kendall and Taina Elg, all of whom seem to be having a wonderful time, as did we. Recommended.

AGAINST MATERIALISM: Over a span of fifty years, two Princeton University presidents warned graduating seniors against the dangers of materialism. In the picture at left, Harold R. Medina, judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals, 2d Circuit, reads from the baccalaureat message delivered in June 1909 by President Woodrow Wilson. On Sunday morning, he addressed members of the class of '09 gathered at the Graduate College for their 50th reunion. Reading from Wilson's address, Judge Medina said: "No mere material object gained ever brought happiness. No man lives with his possessions. He lives with his thoughts, with his impulses, with his memories, his satisfactions and his hopes." The picture on the right shows members of the academic procession on their way to the University Chapel where Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of the university, delivered the Baccalaureate Address to members of the class of 1959. (See page 27.) Members of the procession are: Dr. Carlos Baker, Dr. Goheen, Dean Earnest Gordon, Dr. James I. Armstrong and Dr. Norman Sollenberger. (Photos by Howard Schrader and Alan Richards)

MRS. WADE IS HONORED

Miss Fine's Gives Recognition. Mrs. Ira O. Wade, head of the French Department at Miss Fine's School, was given special recognition at the school's 60th commencement exercises. Mrs. Wade had been a member of the faculty since 1928.

Miss Shirley Davis, headmistress, presented a gift to Mrs. Wade on behalf of the board of trustees. In making the gift, Miss Davis called attention to Mrs. Wade's "absolute loyalty and devotion to this school."

Miss Davis said that under Mrs. Wade "the teaching of French takes on a new dimension in her classes, for through her scholarship and contagious enthusiasm she instills not only a knowledge and love of the language and literature of France," but also understanding of its culture, people and ways of thinking. "Mrs. Wade has created in her students a genuine respect for the things of the mind, a sense of discipline which precludes the superficial or the shoddy."

EXERCISES HELD

At Witherspoon School. Certificates of graduation were presented to 113 eighth grade students at Witherspoon School at the school's closing exercises Wednesday morning. B. Woodhull Davis, superintendent of Borough schools made the presentation.

American Legion Post 76 awards for leadership, scholarship and service were given to Jane Blizzard and Frederick Stroup. Margaret Smock and Robert Groo received medals for their prize-winning American Legion safety essays. The American Legion Auxiliary of Post 218 presented its award to Pamela Sidford.

Thirteen graduates won Student Council awards for service. They are: John Beidler, Jane Blizzard, Beatrice Bilhelmer, Martha Craig, Carol Beth Evans, Joyce Fasanello, David Hoyler, Stephen Kerr, Joan Knapp, Joanne Rohrer, Frederick Stroup, Sandra Thiel and Nancy Sullivan. An award went to Henry Minis as student council president.

High scholarship awards were presented to Jane Blizzard, Carol Beth Evans, Gladys Irish, Joan Knapp, Helen Schrader and Frederick Stroup.

Honor awards for loyalty, service and scholarship went to Deborah Abrams, Ann Brener, Margaretto Coyle, Constance Colman, Elizabeth Hanford and Edward Story. Samuel Eliot received an award for his work as editor of the school paper.

Members of the graduating class are:

SOROPTIMISTS TO MEET

Mrs. Meyner To Speak. Mrs. Robert B. Meyner, wife of Governor Robert B. Meyner, will be guest speaker at the annual installation banquet of the Soroptimist Club of Princeton. The event will be held Thursday at the Nassau Inn.

Officers for the coming year will be installed. They include: Mrs. Edna G. Mulvey, president; Mrs. Ethel Yeoman, first vice president; Mrs. Gathering Sharp, second vice president; Mrs. Betty S. Dukro, recording secretary, Mrs. Freda Gebhardt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary Gill Reef, treasurer, and two new directors, Miss Florence H. Rockwell and Mrs. Betty Wright.

Miss Rockwell will be toastmistress. This meeting is expected to attract Soroptimists from all over the state in honor of Mrs. Meyner. Mrs. Meyner is an honorary member of the Princeton Club.

Tickets For Fire Chasers

Princeton Fire Chief Walter Conn has again issued warning that the fire department may be obliged to issue tickets to persons obstructing streets near the site of fire alarms. Mr. Conn noted that the current wave of "fire chasing" reached a new peak last week when more than 30 unauthorized persons "answered" an emergency alarm sounded at the corner of Prospect Avenue and Broadmead.

Borough Police Chief Raymond Mondone and Township Police Chief James B. Campbell have promised full cooperation with the fire department in enforcing section 39:4-92 of the state motor vehicle and traffic code. Ticketing of "fire chasers" is authorized in order to keep a clear passage for the fire department.

SAFETY COURSE OFFERED

For Experienced Swimmers. Adults who hold current Senior Life Saving cards are eligible to participate in a new course in Water Safety which will be offered by the Red Cross and the Princeton Y.W.C.A.

The course will be taught at the pool at the New Jersey Neuro-psychiatric Institute and transportation to Skillman maybe arranged through the Princeton Chapter of the Red Cross, WA 4-2404.

Classes in part one of the required two-part course will be held on Tuesday, June 23, July 7-14 and July 16 from 7-10 p.m. Part two will begin on Monday, July 20 and classes for this section will be held through Friday, July 24 at the same hours. Successful completion of the two parts will entitle participants to a Water Safety Certificate from the American National Red Cross.

Further information may be obtained from the Y.W.C.A. at WA 4-4825. Immediate registration is required.

STUDENTS TO COME HERE

A.F.S. Scholars Will Visit. Residents of the Princeton community will be hosts this summer to foreign students who have been spending a scholarship year in the United States under the American Field Service plan.

Two busloads of exchange students will visit the community from July 13 through 15 as part of a nation-wide tour which the students are taking before sailing home.

The American Field Service Committee of Princeton is seeking homes in which these students can stay during their two-day visit. Those who would like to provide quarters for one or more students may secure information from Mrs. J. V. A. Fine, 112 Rollingmeade, WA 4-3694, or Mrs. Robert D. McGilvra, 321 Lake Drive, WA 4-1826.

Three Princeton students will visit foreign countries this summer as part of the A.F.S. program. They are Katarine Otis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Otis, Princeton-Kingston Road, who will go to Switzerland; Eileen Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker, 207 Edgerstoune, who will go to Finland and Robert D. Rugg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rugg, 92 Overbrook, who will live with an A.F.S. family in Greece. The two girls are students at Miss Fine's and Robert is a student at Princeton High School.

WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE

For Y-Teens. Mrs. John Justice, Teen-Age Program director for the Y.W.C.A., and eight "Y-Teens" from Princeton will attend the Y-Teen Summer Conference to be held at Camp Wewayanda, Frost Valley, N. Y., from Sunday through Friday.

The delegates are Susan Skibbens, Florence Harris, Myrna Hinds, Mary Van Note, Gloria Dey, Frances Broaday, Joyce Gillette and Ethel Hawthorne. The conference theme, "Profile of the Future," will be developed through roundtable discussion groups on the role of women in the community, the home and the neighborhood.

COLLEGE WOMEN MEET

Mt. Holyoke Club Choose Officers. The Trenton - Princeton Mount Holyoke Club elected officers at its meeting at the home of Mrs. Paul Orr, Province Line Road. Mrs. Richard E. Speagle, 223 Snowden Lane, was named vice-president. Mrs. John T. Cumbler of Titusville was elected recording secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Thomas Johnson of Lawrenceville, alumnae councillor.

Mrs. Orr will continue in office as president of the club for another year. Mrs. Howard Lane, 17 Witherspoon Street, will continue as corresponding secretary. Mrs. George Thomas, Elm Road, was named press chairman.

Also announced at the meeting were the names of girls accepted for admission to Mount Holyoke next fall. They include Miss Kristina Grondahl and Wendy Ann Yeaton from Miss Fine's School; Nancy Strayer, Bette Davidson, Nancy Dinsmore, Sally Ann Mather and Charlotte Slider from Princeton High School. Ann Goll of Trenton High School was awarded the Mount Holyoke Club Schgolarship made possible by the "Open House in Princeton" tour held last spring.

YOUTH PROGRAM PLANNED

Summer Diversion for Teen-Agers. A new program called "Y Summer Teens" is being offered this summer by the YMCA and the YWCA. The program is still in the experimental stage, according to its director, Walter Sorg, who indicated that it will be expanded next summer. This year it is being limited to 50 teenagers.

Co-ed swimming, golf and tennis, bridge, square dancing and landscape painting classes will be offered. The activities scheduled also include splash parties, informal record dances and trips to the beach, Music Circus or major league baseball game.

WELLESLEY CLUB MEETS

Scholarship to Miss Hutton. The Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey has awarded its May Margaret Fine Scholarship to Miss Virginia Hutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hutton, 48 Longview Drive.

New officers of the club were elected at the annual meeting. They are: Mrs. Gerrish Thurber, president; Mrs. Robert N. Pease, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Heher, Trenton area vice-president; Mrs. Erling Dorf, member at large.

B'NAI B'RITH TO MEET

Strawberry Festival Planned. B'Nai B'rith women of Princeton will hold a Strawberry Festival and paid-up membership party on Thursday. The event will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Jewish Center.

Mrs. Simon Larach, chairman of the membership committee, and Mrs. Merrill Zinder, program chairman, are in charge of planning the program. New members are welcome. They will be initiated by Mrs. Frank Lewin, president.

LICENSE REVOKED

In Fatality Aftermath. John Venier, 21, 32 Gulick Road, was fined $30 and had his license revoked indefinitely in Lawrence Township Court Monday night after conviction on a charge of careless driving stemming from a fatal accident on Princeton Pike March 14.

Venier's passenger, Lawrence Neill Jr., 23, 18 Bank Street, was killed when the small foreign car hit a utility pole and overturned. Judge Edmund Z. Potkay heard the case on April 20 but reserved decision until this week.

FOUR LOSE LICENSES

Two Revoked for Speeding. Four area residents have had driving licenses revoked for varying lengths of time following motor vehicle violations. The licenses of Edward T. Dickey, 104 Jefferson Road, and Kenneth J. Pesetsky, R.D. 1, Princeton, were suspended for 30 days under the program initiated January 1 in which drivers lose licenses on conviction for exceeding the speed limit by over ten miles per hour in a 50 or 60 mile zone.

Arthur Rittmaster, Jr., 114 Galbreath Drive, had his license revoked for four months following two "stop" sign violations and two speeding convictions. Joseph lost his license for three months

MISS McMORRIS FINED

In Borough Court. Miss Mary A. McMorris, 18, of 90 Bayard Lane, was fined $30 in Borough Court Monday night for failure to yield the right of way at an intersection. The charge grew out of an accident in which Miss McMorris' vehicle damaged four other cars.

Others fined by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. were John Pulek, 26, 13 Olden Avenue, $15 for obstructing traffic; and Gabrielle Latte, 17, 58 Maxwell Lane, $5 for failure to yield right of way.

DANCE UNDER THE STARS

At Town Club Fete. This Friday night at 8:30 the Town Club will hold a "starlight" dance on Bamberger's roof to record music. Refreshments will be available.

The admission for club members will be $1 with non-members paying $1.25. Chairman of the event is Oliver Petrocelli. The club's monthly meeting will be held Monday, June 29, at 8 at the Marroe Inn.

CORONETTES PLAN SHOW

To Benefit Grey Fund. The annual Coronettes Club fashion show, to be held this year for the benefit of the William Grey Fund, will take place at Dukes Twin Pools, Kingston, on Saturday, July 18. The Grey Fund has been created to provide financial assistance for William Grey, a cerebral palsy victim.

The show will be presented in a cabaret atmosphere, with models from Princeton and other communities. Mrs. Oneta Campbell, past president of the club, is in charge of arrangements. Reservations may be made by calling WA 4-4443, WA 4-1133 or WA 1-9599.

PROTECTION AGAINST POLIO

Offered at One Dollar a Shot. Princeton Hospital will hold its second polio clinic of the current series on Tuesday from 4 to 5 p.m. The hospital's first clinic on May 26 handled a total of 396 inoculations.

The clinics are sponsored by the Mercer County Chapter of the National Society and the Hospital Council of Mercer County. These groups have pointed out that hospital clinics of this type where Salk vaccine can be obtained at $2 a shot bring protection against polio within the reach of all groups.

The sponsoring organizations have recommended that pupils in all grades be required to obtain two shots before the beginning of the next school year. Presently, inoculation is required before entry into kindergarten or first grade, but surveys show that many children, particularly in the dangerous high school age group, have had no shots of vaccine.

TWO SESSIONS POSSIBLE

In Lawrence Schools. The inauguration of double sessions in Lawrence Township elementary schools "may be anticipated by September, 1960, unless additional classroom space becomes available," Superintendent Harry H. Platt has warned parents. At the same time, Mr. Platt announced that the Board of Education's building program, rejected at the polls last December 2, will be resubmitted to the voters this fall.

Wholesale transfers of students from one Township school to another will be repeated this fall to equalize enrollment in the various schools and, "insofar as possible," to prevent overcrowding, Mr. Platt said. Many classes have 30 or more students already, he said, and in two instances classrooms are being used simultaneously for instruction at two different grade levels.

Schools in Lawrence Township will open at 8:45 a.m. on Thursday, September 10, and will close on June 22, 1960. The 1959-1960 school calendar provides for 184 possible school days.

In a letter to parents, Mr. Platt outlined the steps being taken to improve teaching and curriculum at all levels in the Township school system. Particular emphasis is placed on "enrichment" of the programs in math, science and foreign languages.

CHANGE AND PROGRESS: Members of Princeton's Class of 1909, back for their 50th Reunion over the weekend, had little time to consider the non-university aspects of the community, but their scattered impressions left them with a profound sense of the enormous changes Princeton has undergone during the last half-century. Both Dr. Wallace Carver (left) and Dr. Arthur Northwood liked the "progress" since the days of 1909's "one-street town." (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: What are the most striking changes you have noticed in the town of Princeton over the last half-century?

Asked: Of members of Princeton's Class of 1909 at their 50th Reunion headquarters at the Graduate College.

James C. Hutchins, Chicago, broker: In the town the most striking thing is the growth — everywhere — and the construction of Palmer Square, with the change in location of the Nassau Inn. At the University, the addition of Firestone Library and the grad school.

Palmer Hutcheson, Houston, lawyer: I came up a week ahead of my reunion to make sure I wouldn't get lost, and even so I've had to study a map. The place is changed so much it's hard to recognize. My wife, who's never been here before, is helping me to learn the town.

Dr. Fairfield Osborn, New York City, president of the New York Zoological Society and Conservation Foundation: Princeton is getting ever more beautiful and more complete; it's unique. I only regret that I am not blessed with an environment such as Princeton.

Dr. Arthur Northwood, Newark, minister: The thing I notice is the large increase in the number of buildings. Princeton was a one-street town in 1909. Everything's bigger.

Judge Harold R. Medina, New York City: I'd say the relocation of the railroad station, the changing of the town into a suburb of New York and the new college buildings were the most striking changes. Also, the influx of industrial concerns is something new. On the campus the new chapel and the new library are important changes. I think that library is the greatest thing in the world.

James Woodrow, Independence, Kan., oil and cattle man: To tell you the truth I haven't noticed. When you come back for a 50th reunion the members of the class are all drawn together. They're interested in each other and in what good they can do for the world, rather than in the economic and physical improvements in a town.

Dr. Wallace Carper, Springfield, N. J., minister: It's completely changed. It's grown in every respect. The college and the seminary have been improved. Physically I suppose the most striking changes are Palmer Square and the stadium. There are so many new things and we're very much impressed by the progress.

Paul G. Tomlinson, 57 Allison Road, retired publisher: I would say the tremendous growth of the college and the town, and the number of people who live in Princeton today who have no interest in the university. The college isn't the hub of the wheel any more.

Frank Cist, Delray Beach, Fla., retired economist: One of the most striking things was the moving of the railroad station from the front of Blair Arch. The grad college is an important example of the tremendous amount of building that's been going on.

Dr. H. L. Dowd, New York City: Princeton is so changed that sometimes you wonder if it's the same place. It's growing and it's different in many ways, but it is always a pleasure to come back. It makes you feel young again.

In 50 Years, Some Changes

Woodrow Wilson was in "Prospect," not the White House; Nassau Street was still unpaved, and Palmer Square was a quarter-century-plus away from the drawing boards. It was June, 1909, and another class was about to graduate from Princeton University, which a little more than a decade earlier was known as the College of New Jersey.

Last weekend, nearly 75% of the living members of 1909 enjoyed a long reunion at the Graduate College. What, asked Town Topics' inquiring reporter, are the changes in the community you feel have been the most important since you were a senior? For the varied and thoughtful replies, see this page.

AQUASHOW SCHEDULED

At "Y" Pool Saturday. The Princeton YM-YWCA will stage a continuous four-hour water show, featuring performers from all over the state, at the new "Y" pool on Saturday, beginning at 2. The pool will open for regular activities on Monday.

Robert Clotworthy, gold medal winner for diving in the 1956 Olympic games and coach of Princeton's varsity swimming team, will be spotlighted in a diving exhibition, while the "Y's" Flying Fish Club will demonstrate competitive strokes. Individual and team relay races by children and by adult champions will follow.

The Trenton YMCA team, led by John Fisher, aquatic commissioner, will show lifesaving, water safety and skin diving techniques. Ballet and synchronized swimming will be demonstrated by the Ridgewood Aquacons and the Trenton Aquabelles. A team from Newark is tentatively set to play an exhibition game of water polo.

A group diving exhibition will be given by a team from the Shore Swim Club, led by Dick Steadman, Columbia University's swimming coach. The Princeton "Y" staff will show techniques used in teaching beginning swimmers.

Master of ceremonies will be J. P. Meyer. Information about membership, swimming schedules and details of the program at the new pool will be available during the "open house" water show.

HIGH SCHOOL PTA ELECTS

New Officers Named. Mrs. Norman Frederickson has been elected as president of the Princeton High School Parent-Teacher Association for the academic year 1959-60. Mrs. Frank Brink was named honorary president.

Other officers chosen include: Mrs. A. H. Sommer, first vice-president; Mrs. John Fenn, second vice-president; Mrs. S. W. Blizzard, recording secretary; Mrs. H. L. Beidler, correspondence secretary; Mrs. Douglas Langston, treasurer; and Mrs. Charles Widmon, assistant treasurer.

Trenton May Consolidate

Mayor Arthur J. Holland of Trenton said last week that the mayors of Ewing, Hamilton and Lawrence Townships and the director of the Mercer County Board of Freeholders had agreed to confer with him about the possibility of consolidating the Trenton area.

"Socially and economically, we are one now," declared Mayor Holland, "All we need is to become politically one."

Mayor Holland, speaking to members of the Trenton Kiwanis Club, called for the formation of a Metropolitan Study Commission to survey the Trenton area and recommend ways in which its future needs could be met. The Commission, as outlined by Mayor Holland, would consist of the four mayors, the Freeholder director and one citizen from each municipality.

Committee chairmen were also named: Mrs. L. W. Rowles, membership; Mrs. Robert Smyth, newsletter; Mrs. John Marck, nominating; Mrs. A. H. Sommer, program; Mrs. Lester V. Plum, publicity; Mrs. Robert Krueger, publicity assistant; Mrs. Courtland Perkins, scholarship awards; Mrs. John Fenn, Scholarship Fund Raising; Mrs. M. D. Peterson, social.

Members at large of the executive board of the parent-teacher association include: Mrs. Paul Stroyer, canteen; Mrs. John Fenn, lay council; Mrs. Sterling Brackett, council of community services; Mrs. William Mac Calmont, board of education; Mrs. George H. Fremon, American Field Service.

Representatives of the school districts: Mrs. Cyrus Young, Princeton Borough; Mrs. C. J. Schwabe, Franklin Township; Mrs. Edgar M. Smith, Hopewell; Mrs. R. D. Taylor, Lawrence Township; Mrs. Douglas K. Smith, Montgomery Township; Mrs. Chester Steen, Plainsboro; Mrs. Clarence Oleson, Rocky Hill; Mrs. George Turner, South Brunswick; Mrs. John McAndrew, Princeton Township; Mrs. Bernard Mount, West Windsor Township.

AT THE SUMMIT

Businessmen Meet. In contrast, to the impasse being reached by the foreign ministers at Geneva, Princeton was the scene last week of some of the most fruitful over-the-table exchange between representatives of different countries. Some 30 business leaders of a resurging Mexico met at the Princeton Inn for five days in an inter-American conference sponsored by the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce.

New Jersey is the first of our states whose businessmen have as a group made contact with the business and industrial leaders of h foreign country. Unrelated to the elaborate foreign technical assistance programs in Washington, this has been an exclusively private attempt to stimulate the growth of private enterprise economy through international trade.

The Mexican leaders and their wives are re-paying a visit made to Mexico in 1957 by 52 New Jersey businessmen. According to James P. Stevens, of 10 College Road West, president of the New Jersey Chamber, the interchange has resulted in "many lasting personal friendships, and in a small way at least, has strengthened the day-by-day working relationship between our two countries."

Mr. Stewart, who is the president of De Laval Steam Turbine Company in Trenton, pointed to at least one material result of the 1957 visit. De Laval has since opened a distributing branch in Mexico.

Initially, representatives of the Mexican light and power industry, which is currently expanding at 21% a year, approached B. L. England, chairmen of the board of the Atlantic City Electric Company. Through Mr. England's efforts, the inter-American cooperation was extended to include bankers, engineers and representatives of all New Jersey's principal industries.

The itinerary for the visiting Mexicans included a trip to the David Sarnoff Research Center of R.C.A. Dr. James Hillier, vice-president of R.C.A. Laboratories, is a member of the host com-

LEGION PLANS ELECTION

For Wednesday Night. Princeton Post 76, American Legion, will hold its election of officers on Wednesday night. Eric H. Jungberg, senior vice-commander, has been nominated for the post of commander for the year 1959-60. Although other officers may be nominated, Mr. Jungberg is expected to run unopposed.

Mr. Jungberg, who resides at 212 Youngs Road, Hamilton Township, has been a member of the Princeton Post for ten years. During World War II, he served with the army in the European Theater for four years. He is presently employed by American Telephone and Telegraph Company in telephone equipment maintenance.

Other offices to be filled at the election and the candidates are: Leonard Solomon, senior vice-commander; John H. Smith, junior vice-commander; George Cahill, adjutant; Fred Klink, finance officer; Charles P. McHugh, historian; Henry J. Frank, service officer; Thomas Kinnelly, sergeant-at-arms; and Walter Riggs, chaplain.

Eight members of the post are seeking election to the seven vacancies on the executive committee. They include: William J. Birch, Nathaniel J. McKee, Elwood A. Blydenburg, Harold M. Hinkson, Sr., D. Don Richards, Henry A. Robertiello, Robert C. Schmidt and James E. Whitlow.

Post 76 is entitled to seven delegates at the State American Legion Convention, the County Convention and the Mercer County Committee. There are nine candidates running. They include: Ernest F. Drake, Henry J. Frank, Norman R. Fowler, William Haupt, Eric H. Jungberg, Nathaniel J. McKee, Henry A. Robertiello, John H. Smith and Leonard Solomon.

The seven candidates for alternate delegates to these conventions are: Paul E. Assenheimer, William J. Birch, John F. Gallagher, Thomas Kinnelly, Theodore P. Maple, Andrew H. O'Hara and Robert C. Schmidt.

MISS FINE'S HONOR ROLL

Forty-One Students Listed. Forty-one students have been placed on the honor roll at Miss Fine's School. In class twelve, the students who ranked high scholastically were: Marion Dean, Judith Levin, Abigail Pollak, Guliz Sarmat, Deborah Smith, Camilla Turnbul.

In class eleven, Eileen Baker was named to the honor roll. In class ten, the students listed were: Elise Bruml, Polly Busselle, Elise Chase, Jane Rose, Linda Scassera, Margaret Smith, Cynthia Weinrich, Joan Yeaton.

AWARDS TO BE MADE

By Operation Nassau. The committee on Operation Nassau is meeting currenly to select the recipients of Operation Nassau awards. The purpose of the awards is to give recognition to members of the Princeton business community who have helped to maintain the character and atmosphere of the business district in keeping with the history and tradition of the town.

The first such awards were presented in 1947 by a committee formed by Dilman M.K. Smith and Julian Garnsey. Last year the responsibility for continuing this work was passed to the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Richard L. McClelland and John Ehmann will make the selection for the jaycees.

GATHERING OF THE CLANS: These sons and daughters of the Class of 1934 have just entered University Field where they passed in review before President Robert F. Goheen. Their fathers, who in selecting a colorful plaid perpetuated the Scottish tradition of past reunion costumes, gathered 264 strong for their 25th reunion and won the trophy for the largest attendance. More than 300 children of class members participated in the P-Rade and other weekend festivities held in Holder Court.

MATHEMATICS INSTITUTE

Groninger To Attend. Forty-one mathematics teachers will participate in a six-week Summer Institute in Mathematics to be held at Princeton University, June 29 to August 7. The Institute was made possible by a grant of $40,500 from the National Science Foundation.

Gerald D. Groninger, member of the mathematics department at Princeton High School, was among the 26 secondary school teachers chosen. Fifteen of the teachers who will attend are college instructors.

According to President Robert F. Goheen of the University, the institute is designed "to stimulate teachers of superior ability and initiative who will be able to give leadership, in their own institutions." The curriculum for the Institute will be based upon the revision of the college-preparatory curriculum in mathematics recommended by the commission on mathematics of the College Entrance Examination Board.

DOGS' PORTRAITS ON VIEW

Sunday at Miss Fine's. The portraits of 155 dogs owned by Princeton residents will be on exhibit at Miss Fine's School on Sunday from 2 to 5. The display is open to "all dogs and their masters or mistresses."

The portraits were executed by H. Robert Hildebrand, nationally-known animal painter. The artist has been painting dogs for 21 years.

The likenesses range from that of Lucky, Great Dane of John H. Meyer, 148 Library Place, and Brewster Kennedy, St. Bernard, who lives on Herrontown Road; to Bunny, Chow of Dr. George Gallup of the Great Road. The portrait of Nike, Collie belonging to Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University, is another highlight of the exhibit.

THE ARTIFACTS OF OLD PRINCETON: These hand-blown bottles, over half a century old, were uncovered when Richard L. Stoddard built his house on a Westcott Road lot. The tall bottle (right) is probably almost 60 years old and it shows the distortions and joinings that are usual in hand-blown glass. The small bottle (center) is dark green iron glass. Apparently the Westcott Road location was a dump early in the 20th century—the Stoddards also found a 1913 license plate with porcelain glaze.

Report from THE MAYOR

A Real Hazard. This week's mail brought a thoughtful letter from a Cranbury resident who asks: "Why must a pedestrian take his life in his hands to cross Nassau at Washington and Vandeventer during a rush hour? Between right-turn drivers from Vandeventer and left-turn drivers from Washington, it is a gamble whether the pedestrian can cross at all."

This problem of pedestrian crossings at the major Nassau Street intersections was the subject of a special meeting of the Borough Safety Committee last July 9. At that time, an engineering representative of the State highway department gave us all the reasons why our proposed "Walk-Wait" signals would not work.

He also objected to a trial use of red lights in all directions for a few seconds to give the pedestrian "a fighting chance" to cross in safety. In the year that has passed since the last search for solutions, the problem has become more serious. Other towns throughout the country have used pedestrian signals at major intersections.

It is time for another effort by the Borough to persuade highway engineers to let us try to solve this problem. The letter from the Cranbury resident should help.

Area Redevelopment. As the guest of Princeton's John P. Wooldridge, Secretary of the Greater Trenton Council, the Mayor was privileged to attend the very impressive second annual meeting of the Council in Ewing Township last Thursday. Highlight of the session was the stirring report by Governor David Lawrence of Pennsylvania on his experiences during 13 years as Mayor of Pittsburgh.

The successful redevelopment of that great city was accomplished, he said, by a united community effort that included government, business and labor, civic groups, and the participation of religious leaders of all faiths. In their continuing efforts to fortify Pittsburgh's economic life, they have not forgotten to accent the historic significance of their town nor to stress the esthetic side of sound community planning.

Among the Princeton faces at the crowded meeting, the Mayor spotted Reymond A. Bowers, Prof. Gerald W. Breese, George R. Cook III, James Kerney, Jr., Richard Macgill, and Prof. Robert W. McLaughlin. Council President Harvey C. Emery praised Mr. Wooldridge for his outstanding work in behalf of area-wide planning in the greater Trenton program.

Newcomers. The Mayor had the privilege of addressing a luncheon meeting of Princeton "Newcomers." It was obvious that these new residents are wasting no time in becoming active participants in the life of the community. An interesting assignment the Mayor was asked to explain why we have two local governments in what seems to be one town.

The Newcomers elected Mrs. P. T. Borhill, Jr. as their President. The officers have terms of only six months, reflecting the fact that the members must drop out two years after they arrive in town!

After 23 Years. One feature of Princeton's mobile population is the hard fact that we are often called upon to say farewell to residents whose careers take them to far off places. Last week, the community and the institution he served so vigorously for 23 years honored Dr. John Alexander Mackay, now President Emeritus of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Dr. Mackay's moving remarks at the close of the testimonial dinner will not soon be forgotten, especially his comments about the responsibility of leadership. The Mackays will be missed as they take up their new work in an active "retirement" that will give Dr. Mackay new opportunity to pursue his interest in Spanish culture.

Open House. The regular weekly "Tell it to the Mayor!" sessions will again be held from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall on Thursday, June 18 and Thursday, June 25. No appointment is ever necessary.

A special meeting of Mayor and Council will be held at Borough Hall on Friday, June 19, at 7:30 p.m. to act on the proposed reorganization of the engineering department. Public hearings will be held on two ordinances affecting positions and salaries for the department.

held Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.

At the close of the Friday recital, Mrs. Mangold will present a $100 scholarship to Miss Winifred B. Waring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Waring, Carter Road. The Freshman Music Award will provide partial tuition at the St. Louis Institute of Music where Miss Waring will enter next fall as a piano major.

Other students appearing at the recitals will be: Charles Ashton, Laurie Bain, Susan Bucher, Susan Cushman, Christine Clark, Gloria Carnevale, Caludia Dignan, David Friend, Jeffery Frangos, Sarah Cripper, David Hurley, Gillies Hallez, Donna Lee Harris, Shirley Jefferson, Kevin Olsen, Roberta Peterson, Michael Schultz, Carlie Sella, Bonnie Ward and Miss Ann Vaurio.

Solos, duets, trios and rhythm band will be featured. Awards will be given to those pupils with highest theory averages for the year.

SUMMER HOURS LISTED

At Inspection Stations. Beginning Monday, the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Inspection Stations will operate on a summer schedule. They will remain open daily Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., except for one evening a week.

The inspection station at Baker's Basin on Route 1 will remain open until 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. All stations are closed by law on Saturdays until September 12.

ART EXHIBIT SUNDAY

Children's Work on Display. Mosaic tables, chiseled wooden bowls and ceremics will be displayed on Sunday at the Sharon Studio, 60 Deer Path. The exhibit will be open from 2 to 6 p.m.

The handicrafts are the work of 60 Princeton children. The public is invited.

NURSERY SCHOOL EXPANDS

Teachers to Be Added. The Franklin Park Coop Nursery School successfully completed its first year of operations with a membership meeting of the parents. Reports were given by Mrs. Eulma Schenck, teacher, and by the executive board.

Plans were made to expand next year into two junior and two senior classes. The school expects to move to larger quarters at the Kendall Park Jewish Community Center, and new teachers are currently being added. Anyone wishing to place his child's name on the waiting list can do so by calling Mrs. James Breetveld at DAvis 9-6587.

"Y" CAMPS FILL UP

Early Registration Is Urged. The weekly report on registration for the Princeton YMCA Summer Camp programs indicates that both the Central New Jersey resident camp at Blairstown and the Princeton Day camps are filling up at a rate well ahead of last year's. Walter Fullam, YMCA camp chairman, has urged parents to register soon in order to get the periods desired.

The third period at the Blairstown camp has been completely filled. Other periods are at 80% occupancy. In the day camps, the first two periods from June 29 to July 24 has reached 90% capacity. There is still room, however, for the later periods.

BIRTH LIST

Hospital Has 17 Arrivals. Seventeen children, including 12 boys, were born to Princeton area parents at Princeton Hospital last week. Parents of sons include Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Snyder, 66 College Road; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Foster, 22 Dillion Road, Franklin Park; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Frankel, 70 Einstein Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. James McGrath, 12 Sturgis Road, Franklin Park, June 9.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nelson, 184 John Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gamblin, 333 Nassau Street, June 10; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Rubenstein, 23 Palmer Road, Franklin Park, June 11; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gallagher, 31 Logan Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Earle, 40 Brookside Avenue, Somerville, June 12; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kunkel, R.D. 1, June 13; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tanner, Cold Soil Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Giovanni Mattera, 29 Pine Street, June 14.

Girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tylus, 121 Washington Road, June 7; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Durbin, 35 Savage Road, Franklin Park, June 10; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cuomo, 166 Linden Lane, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pryor, 606 Princeton Road, Plainsboro, June 11; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jensen, Princeton Road, Plainsboro, June 14.

HIGH SCHOOL CANTEENS SET

Two Dances Slated. The Princeton High School Canteen has planned a complete summer schedule, including two "dress dances" on Bamberger's roof. These will be held Friday, June 26, and Friday, August 21. All canteens will run from 8:30 to 11:30.

The regular Saturday night gettogethers will take place July 11 and 25, August 8 and September 5 and 11 on the parking lot behind the High School. In case of rain, the event will be cancelled.

George Dixon is director of the program. He will be assisted by an adult board of supervisors from the High School PTA and the Y, as well as parent chaperones. High School students interested in becoming members of the canteen should call Thomas T. Turner Jr., board chairman, at WA 1-9022. Membership is required for attendance.

Officers of the canteen for the coming year are: Gertrude Rogers, president; Thomas Cochran, vice-president; Linda Dey, secretary; and Sharon Mather, treasurer.

COURT OF HONOR PLANNED

Keizer to Get Eagle Award. A court of honor will highlight parent's night for Boy Scout Troop 88 and Post 88. The event will be held on Monday at the Princeton University skeet range on Lake Carnegie, behind Baker Rink.

At the court of honor, Alan Keizer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Keizer, 732 Princeton-Kingston Road, will be awarded his Eagle badge, the highest award in scouting. He has been active in Troop 88 since 1955 and served as senior patrol leader. He has just com-

BANK ENLARGES VAULT

More Deposit Bases Available. As part of its program to accommodate the needs of the rapidly-increasing population in the Princeton area, the Princeton Bank and Trust Company has installed a new vault. The new facilities substantially increase the number of safe deposit boxes available at the bank's Nassau Street main office.

Construction required cutting through the steel and masonry wall of the old vault in order to provide access to the new room. This task demonstrated the burglar proof strength of the bank's vault. More than 80 hours of continuous drilling by experts using steam hammers and acetylene torches were required to create this opening.

The new vault is of equal strength. Both vaults are further protected by a modern alarm system. The new vault was installed by Lewis C. Bowers and Sons, Inc., and the Mosler Safe Company.

The bank has also expanded and modernized the vault facilities at its two branches located at Hopewell and at the Princeton Shopping Center. Safe deposit boxes of various sizes are available now at all three offices. Further improvements are currently being made at the main office where new quarters for the bank's trust division have been opened in the adjoining building.

SAW AND HAMMER

Construction Proceeds. Partitions are coming down and walls are going up in major remodeling operations now under way in three Princeton business firms.

By the first of July, Lahiere-Kane hopes to drive its Ramblers into the new show-room now being built on Spring Street. The enlarged service department is already in operation in new L-shaped quarters with entrance on Tulane.

Two additional mechanics are at work in the new service department which features an imported car clinic as well as facilities for the repair of American-made cars. The department has about 2,000 square feet more than before remodeling. Duncan Doyle has been the contractor.

Princeton Savings and Loan, 21 Chambers Street, will move into its new quarters about August 15. The hundred-year-old structure next door to the loan company's present offices, will provide almost double the amount of space that Princeton Savings and Loan now has.

Nineteenth-century architectural features, such as half-moon windows, old lintels and the outside iron balconies have been retained. The interior has been modernized and the space between the building and 21 Chambers has been filled in to make a large room for the board of directors.

There will be an enlarged lobby area, offices for private consultations and additional storage space. H. G. Houghton and Sons are the builders.

Princeton Savings and Loan had $1,700,000 in assets when it moved into the 21 Chambers Street location in 1950, according to Mrs. Charlotte Dougherty, executive secretary. The organization will have about $7,500,000 in assets by August 15.

In Princeton Junction, remodeling operations are almost complete at The Building Center, Princeton. Samuel Pillsbury, owner of the former Conover and Emmons property, has remodeled the show-room space so that 40 percent more of the area is now available for display.

The L-shaped counter has been removed and a shorter counter installed in what used to be office space. Mr. Pillsbury plans to devote more space than before to actual building materials. Philip Golden has done plumbing work on the newly-remodeled building. Lester Gibbs has been the painter, Ray Landis the carpenter and John Shearer the tree expert.

JUST A TOKEN, PLEASE: That's all it takes to get out of the new Hulfish Street parking lot, designed for Palmer Square shoppers. Anyone who buys $2 worth of merchandise at a Palmer Square store receives a token which serves as the trigger for the "Exit Only" bar. Otherwise, it takes 50c to raise the bar. The lot is open every day.

TRAVEL AGENCY TO MOVE

Kuller to Have Larger Quarters. The Kuller Travel Company, which has for many years been doing business in its second floor office at 82 Nassau Street, has announced plans to move into larger quarters. On June 29, the travel agency will re-locate at 108 Nassau Street.

The firm was founded by Thomas A. T. Kuller in 1948. It handles train, ship and airline bookings and accommodations for travel around the world.

CREWS TO ROW SATURDAY

In National Regatta. The final events on the 1958-59 athletic schedule will take place Saturday afternoon, some 250 miles northwest of Princeton. The occasion is the annual Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta, staged for the past several years on Lake Onondnga at Syracuse, N. Y.

Princeton's freshman, junior varsity and varsity crews will compete over the three-mile course. Eleven colleges will compete for the national rowing championship, although it will be something of an empty title since Harvard and Yale do not take part in the event and Harvard's unbeaten crew is in all probability the nation's best.

Four of the entries—Cornell, Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Washington — have been installed as favorites. Syracuse, which chased Harvard across the line in the Eastern Sprint Championship here, is probably the best bet, although Washington might take the title back to the West Coast.

Of the others, none is likely to edge out the top four. Princeton is hoping to grab off fifth spot, but so are Dartmouth, Navy, California and Wisconsin. Columbia and M.I.T. round out the field.

Coach Dutch Schoch has had his oarsmen on the scene for the past week, working toward the three-mile distance — 50 per cent longer than any race in which the Tigers rowed this year. One or two minor changes in the varsity boat have been made, but essentially it will be the same crew that represented the Orange and Black in its final three races earlier in the spring.

Princeton did not win a race this season, and a place among the top five or six would be greatly to its credit. Last year, the Tigers won their opening race against Navy, lost the rest and then finished fourth at Syracuse.

YALE WINS IN RAIN

Elis Finally Beat Herm Beiz. After having failed to beat him in their first seven meetings during the past three years, Yale's baseball team got the better of Herman Beiz Saturday. In a contest that barely got past the minimum five innings, the Elis topped Princeton, 4 to 2.

Rain began to fall in torrents as the Tigers came to bat in their half of the sixth. With Carl Belz on first as the result of a lead-off single and Jackie Sullivan at bat, the umpires called time. By the time the downpour ended half an hour later, the diamond, still damp from a night-long rain, was a quagmire and the visitors were awarded the brief contest in formal fashion.

Better play on Princeton's part might well have resulted in a different outcome. Even in the short time the game lasted, the Tigers were guilty of loose fielding, inability to drive in runs even by the simple expedient of sacrifice flies, and atrocious base running.

On top of it all, Belz obviously was without his touch, allowing eight hits in five innings and seeing the lead batter reach base four times. Yale's starting pitcher, Stuart Beattie, was wobbly enough so that he was replaced when he walked the opening batter in the fifth despite his 4-2 lead, but the Tigers could not

THE MIDGET RED SOX
YMCA Champions

Sometimes the hats are a size too big and the bats heavy enough so the player swings about the time the ball plunks solidly into the catcher's glove. Sometimes it's tough for the managers to find a catcher—mask, chest protector and shin guards are generally unfamiliar equipment at age 8 or 9.

But that's the right age to begin learning baseball, and 200-plus Princeton area boys who have been active in the YMCA Midget League this season are solid proof of what early experience in the national pastime can mean. Under the guidance of the dozen team managers, all serving in a volunteer capacity, every boy is given a chance to learn and to play.

All of them, understandably, do not respond with equal ability but by the time the best of them reach their peak—12 is the maximum age limit—their performances are a pretty good indication that a future star here and there is in the making. Most welcome trend of all is the steady improvement a team shows as its players grow older.

One manager's favorite story is the response he got from a new hand, whom he told late in a game, "You take right field this inning." Frantically grabbing his glove, the youngster shot off the bench, only to turn back a moment later and ask, "Okay, but where is it?" Point is, however, that next time, he knew, and each time thereafter, he learned more about how to play it.

Not too many seasons ago, the Red Sox were strictly last place inhabitants in the Midget League standings. The players assigned to the team were younger than others in the circuit and there was much to be learned.

Steady work and the passage of time paid dividends, however. The top players on other teams "graduated" from Midget action, the Red Sox grew stronger and this spring they finished well in front in the "American League" standings. As a matter of fact, they turned a trick their big league namesakes would dearly like to emulate by winning the pennant well before the final game of the season.

Last week, the Red Sox (sponsored by Laidlaw & Co.) met the Dodgers, National League entry sponsored by the Rotary Club. In three knockdown, drag-out affairs, the Red Sox triumphed—victories by 8-0 and 9-6 being sandwiched around an 11-8 defeat. Victory was sweet, but it may be short: presence of a good half dozen 12-year olds on the Red Sox indicate that another and younger team may replace the "old men" in 1960.

Barney Hoisington, assisted by Bruce Bedford, has managed the Red Sox throughout their climb up the ladder. Members of the 1959 "World Champions" are Jeff Lowe, Dave Johnson, Carl Giese, Peter Sly, Johnny Freeman, Chuck Petzold, Lowell Miller, Chris Fischer, Bruce Bedford 3d, Dick Hill, Freddy Drake, Henry Hoyt, Steve Hoisington, Harry Cahn, Mark Fisher, Bud Rosso, Dan Oppenheim, Marty Hines, William Schwanda and George McGowan.

close the gap in the short time that remained.

Two Princeton runners were doubled up because they strayed too far off base—one after rounding third on a fielder's choice, the other on a fly to center that resulted in a twin killing at second base. In the field, the Tigers misjudged flies, gave up a run on a delayed steal that should have brought the third out and generally turned in a lackadaisical performance.

It was a surprising twist to a success story that would have written pleasant history from a Princeton viewpoint. Not only was Belz's record marred by defeat but victory would have given the Tigers three games in one season over Yale for the first time in their long rivalry.

Buras Blanks Colgate. Four days before the Yale game, senior Joe Burns had completed his career with a story-book triumph over Colgate. The 6-5 righthander went to the plate with two out in the ninth, runners on first and second and the game locked in a scoreless tie.

The long blow he rifled into left center was his first hit of the season and gave him a thoroughly-deserved 1-0 triumph. It was a five-hit shutout and brought his Princeton career to a memorable close.

Twice during the contest, the big redhead worked his way out of tight situations. In the sixth, with one out and runners on second and third, Jackie Sullivan took a fly in medium right field and doubled the man at the plate by six feet. In the eighth, the visitors put the first two aboard but after a sacrifice advanced them, Burns got out of trouble by forcing the next two batters to hit to short.

The split last week kept the team above the .500 mark with an 11-10 record. However, the loss to a weak Yale outfit (the Elis entered the game with a record no better than five out of 19) made it a disappointing season.

Ippolito Named Captain. Before the final game, left fielder Mike Ippolito was elected captain for 1960. He is a two-year

Five seniors started against Yale, the Belz twins, pitcher and first; shortstop Tom Frost and Gene Locks at third and Captain Dick Edie at center. With Joe Burns also picking up a diploma, the big hole next year will be in pitching. Could be that Captain-elect Ippolito, who came here as a pitcher and works on the mound in summer hail, will be called on in the emergency.

RED SOX WIN

In Midget World Series. The Laidlaw Red Sox defeated the Rotary Club Dodgers, 9-6, in the final game of the YMCA Midget League World Series to take two out of three games. The Red Sox capitalized on a fifth inning home run by Dave Johnson with two on to put the series beyond the Dodgers' reach.

The Red Sox used Allan Bernhardt, Chris Fisher, Jeff Lowe and John Freeman on the mound in the decisive game. Dodger pitchers were Tom Fasnella and Fred Wandelt.

The Red Sox captured the first game, 8-0. Mark Fisher and Johnson with two on to put the series beyond the Dodgers' reach.

The Red Sox used Allan Bernhardt, Chris Fisher, Jeff Lowe and John Freeman on the mound in the decisive game. Dodger pitchers were Tom Fasnella and Fred Wandelt.

The Red Sox captured the first game, 8-0. Mark Fisher and Johnson provided the main hitting and John Freeman pitched six innings of shut out ball. Allan Bernhardt took over the final inning for the Sox to preserve the shut out. The Dodgers, behind pitcher Tony Trani, could not pin down their fielding chores or put together sustained hitting.

In the second game, the Dodgers came alive in a see-saw contest which they won, 11-5. Ford Fraker carried the pitching assignment until the last inning when Tony Trani came in to hold the three-run Dodger lead. The Red Sox used Jeff Lowe, Chris Fisher and John Freeman on the mound. For the Dodgers a sparkling catch by outfielder Tom Fasenella and a two-out bases loaded single by Richard Delano were key plays.

Manager for the Red Sox was Harland Holsington, Jr. Jack Viguers was manager for the Dodgers.

JUNIOR LEAGUE PLANNED

Registration Closes Friday. All boys 13 through 15 years old who wish to play baseball are invited to register for the YMCA's Junior League. Application forms may be obtained at the desk of the new "Y" Center. Registration closes Friday.

The league has been sponsored for 14 years by the Playgrounds Committee. This is its first year under YMCA leadership. Last year's team sponsors, all of whom are expected to repeat, were Bowers Construction Co., Matthews Construction Co., Nassau Oil Co. and the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

Membership in the "Y" is not required of prospective league members, and there is no registration fee. Games will be played at the high school and at Valley Road School. The season opens with an all-league game on July 4, with regular play beginning July 6 and continuing through August 14. B. E. Bergesen Jr. is league director.

TENNIS DATES LISTED

Junior Play Begins Monday. All participants, both boys and girls, in the Playgrounds Committee's junior tennis tournament should report to the Church Courts at 4 on Monday, when the tourney's first round will get under way. The opening date was postponed from last Monday.

Dates for adult tournaments remain unchanged. Men's singles will begin on July 6, while women's singles will start on July 13.

'GOODWILL' TENNIS PLANNED

In Men's and Women's Singles. The third Goodwill Tennis Tournament conducted by the New Jersey Tennis Association will be held June 27 and 28 on the University Courts. Entry blanks can

FRONTIERS STILL EXIST

Dr. Goheen Gives Baccalaureate. In the baccalaureate address at Princeton University, President Robert F. Goheen told the 683 graduating seniors that the 20th century "offers scope for action and challenge greater than any free-swinging pioneer ever faced in a Kentucky forest. The title of his address was "Frontiers All Around Us."

Speaking in the University Chapel, Dr. Goheen said that opportunities for effective work of intelligence, judgment and creative imagination were probably greater today than at any time in history. Americans stand "on many frontiers: those extending throughout the world, those of expanding knowledge; surging populations and international tensions; and those frontiers within our national life, beset with materialism conformity and complacency."

Dr. Goheen warned against falling prey to "the air of materialism that we breathe," which is "as deadly as any fell-out and reeches to every corner of the land. We must guard," he declared, "against Madison Avenue values that surround us, in home and office, in never-ending currents of chrome and steel and plastic which engulf and infect us all."

We would do well, according to Dr. Goheen, "to restore intellectual and spiritual achievement to their rightful place in our scale of the good and necessary things of life. We would do well to begin honoring independent thinking as much as organized efficiency."

The Inner Frontier. Beyond the "frontiers all around us," Dr. Goheen emphasized that there is another frontier "even more difficult of access, and more stubborn to fight through. It is the inner frontier, deep in the mind and heart of man, that bourne where one comes to recognition of one's own nature, with its God-given power to question and to reflect, and that simultaneous ability to feel and to know compassion."

Turning now to the seniors, Dr. Goheen quoted from Woodrow Wilson who once said: "Men grow up by having responsibilities laid on them, the burden of other people's business." Dr. Goheen then added that the years at Princeton were "a standing affirmation of our faith, and the faith of many generations, in your worth, and in the possibility of your making the world a better one."

In the degree to which Princeton has not made you only passive absorbers of information, but has helped you to reach out intellectually, to widen your horizons, to become thinking men — so has it laid on you "the burden of other people's business," Dr. Goheen declared.

FIRST SERVICE PLANNED

By Kendall Park Protestants. Protestants in Kendall Park will join together this Sunday in the first public worship service to be held for Protestant residents of the rapidly-growing community. The service will be held at the Cambridge School in Kendall Park at 11 a.m.

Dr. Jarvis S. Morris will preach his first sermon in the community on the words of Jesus, "On this Rock I will Build My Church." The Presbytery of New Brunswick, composed of 41 churches in central New Jersey has employed Dr. Morris through its committee on National Missions to begin this new work.

The Presbytery looks toward the establishment of a Community Protestant Church in Kendall Park. Arrangements have been made to purchase about ten acres from Dr. and Mrs. Frank Beck on Sand Hills road for a church and recreation center.

So far, about 230 Protestant families in the development have been visited and it has been found that there are about twice as many Presbyterians as there are members of any other denomination. The other major denominations in New Jersey, through a comity agreement, have given the Presbyterians a free hand in Kendall Park.

Dr. Morris emphasized that the new church will minimize denominationalism. It is his hope that all who believe in Christ will feel at home in this new community fellowship.

Dr. Morris has had good experience in this type of work. He has already helped two mission-aided churches in New Jersey to come to full support. He has had experience in Puerto Rico in missionary and educational service. For the past four years, he has been associate pastor of the Presbyterian Church in New Brunswick.

BULLETIN NOTES

On the Radio. "Youth in the Atomic Age" is the subject of a Christian Science radio program over station WOR (710 kc) New York, in its Mutual "Radio Chapel," Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. . . . The Deacons of the Presbyterian Church have planned a Block Dance to be held in the parking yard of the Lawrenceville Elementary School at Craven Lane on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Square dancing and popular music will be featured as well as refreshments. Tickets are $1 per person.

Correction. The Rosedale Chapel Women's Auxiliary will hold its annual Strawberry Festival Saturday from 4:30 to 7. The affair will be a buffet supper and there will be no worship service.

Vacation Bible Schools. The Calvary Baptist Church will hold an all-day planning session for the vacation church school staff on next Tuesday. The school itself will begin on July 7 and meet weekdays until July 17. Junior high school students will meet at an outdoor location with Rev. and Mrs. Allen Deeter. Younger children will meet at the church.

The Vacation Church School of the Messiah Lutheran Church will meet in two sections. For the older group (third grade through eighth), school will be held Mondays from June 22 until August 10 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. The school for younger children will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each day for two weeks beginning August 17.

The Princeton Methodist Church has planned a vacation church school for children from four years old to those now completing third grade. It will run daily from June 22 through July 3 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. . . . vacation Bible school at the Princeton Baptist Church will be held from June 22 until July 3. . . .

The Presbyterian Church in Plainsboro will hold Vacation Church School weekdays beginning Monday and until July 3 for children aged 4 to 14. Registration will be Saturday from 10 to 12 e.m. at the church.

"THE WATERS OF THE FLOOD WERE UPON THE EARTH." Rain, that age-old enemy of the Sunday School picnic, washed out the Lutheran Saturday and forced them to cancel their parish outing, designed for young and old alike. "See you in church," is the philosophical parting note on this Squatters Grove sign.

Presbyterians To Join

Beginning with this Sunday and continuing through September 6, the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church will join the congregation of the Second Presbyterian Church at the Second Church for morning worship services at 9:30 and 11. This will permit installation of a new Holtkamp organ in the First Church.

Beginning July 12 and continuing through September 6, Witherspoon Presbyterian Church will join the other two Presbyterian congregations for the usual Summer Union Services. A joint church-time nursery for children aged from six weeks to five years will be held throughout the summer. During June and July, the nursery will be held at the First Church; then at the Second Church for the remainder of the summer.

Obituaries

George W. Clayton, 80, of Lawrenceville, died June 11 in Trenton. A retired truck driver, he was the husband of the late Mrs. Doretta A. Clayton.

He is survived by two sons, Robert L. Clayton of Trenton, and George E. Clayton of Garfield; a brother, Edward Clayton of Princeton, and a grandson. The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home with the Rev. Jerry Bohn of the Lawrence Road Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Thomas Dunsten, 54, of 309 Ewing Street, died June 7 in Princeton Hospital after a long illness. He was a former employee of Kingston Trap Rock Company.

His survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mildred Cherby Dunsten, and several brothers and sisters. The funeral was held in Girardville, Penna., with interment in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Fountain Spring, Penna.

Mrs. Zilla Robinson of Hopewell, died June 6 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Buckmon Katzenback, Woodsville Road. She was the widow of Marion T. Robinson.

In addition to Mrs. Katzenback, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Arthur Inskeep of Dayton, Ohio, and three grandchildren. The service and interment were in Springfield, Ohio.

Harry Speinheimer, 61, of Laurel Avenue, Kingston, died June 11 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Rocky Hill, he was a veteran of World War I and a member of Carpenters Local 781. He had lived in Kingston 25 years.

His survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mame Briggs Speinheimer; two sons, Harry Speinheimer Jr. of Princeton and John M. Speinheimer of Kingston; two daughters, Mrs. Marion McCloskey of Cranbury and Mrs. Joan S. Vandermark of Lawrenceville; a brother, Frank Speinheimer of Rocky Hill; four sisters, Mrs. William Higgins and Mrs. George Seyfarth, both of Kingston, and Mrs. Ernest Higgins and Mrs. Ralph Garrett, both of Rocky Hill; and five grandchildren.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home with the Rev. William Kingston of the Kingston Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in Kingston Cemetery.

be obtained from George Holmes, 165 Witherspoon Street.

The entry in the men's singles, which will begin at 10 a.m. June 27, has been limited to 32 players to facilitate completion in two days. The field in women's singles is limited to 16 players, with play starting at 12 noon on June 27. George Stewart, winner of the tournament the past two years, has moved from New Jersey and is not expected to enter.

SPORTSMEN TRIUMPH, 7-2

Pace Softball League. Behind the three-hit pitching of Harry Kahny, the Princeton Italian-American Sportsmen's Club defeated Sannino's, 7-2, at Poe Field on Thursday. The Sportsmen, with a 7-1 slate, retained firm control of first place in the Princeton Community Softball League.

In other Thursday action, Pete and Mike's edged Cenerino's, 11-9. Pete and Mike's tallied once in the first inning, added three each in the third and fifth stanzas and four in the fourth to ice the triumph. Herman English homered for the losers.

In a make-up game last Wednesday, Pete and Mike's handed the Sportsmen their first defeat of the season, 4-3, at Goldie Field. The upset victory was a one-man show as Tom Procaccino hurled two-hit ball and slammed a decisive home run. The Sportsmen's "iron men" pitcher, Harry Kahny, gave up five safeties while taking his first loss this season.

Games scheduled for Tuesday night were rained out. The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Sportsmen	7	1	.875
Cenerino's	4	4	.500
Sannino's	3	5	.375
Pete & Mike's	2	6	.250

CLARKSVILLE WINS, 15-0

Maintains Unbeaten State. Clarksville Diner trounced Thorne's Pharmacy, 15-0, on Monday to maintain its unbeaten record in the Princeton Girls' Softball League.

Clarksville, now 5-0 for the season, wrapped up the victory with six runs in the third inning and five in the fourth. The loss was Thorne's fourth against one win.

ETS and Town Topics have identical 1-2 records. Monday's game was the only one played during the past week, with last Wednesday's postponed by high school exams.

PAC TO OPEN SEASON

After Rain Delays Start. Showers Tuesday night postponed the opener of the 1959 season for the Princeton Athletic Club baseball team. The schedule calls for a fresh start to be made this Thursday in a twilight affair against Montgomery Township on the school diamond in that community.

The Tri-County League (which retains its name with one entry from Somerset, Mercer and Middlesex) has been reduced to three teams this season with the defection of Sonny Pine. Nonetheless, games will be played Monday and Thursday nights, with each outfit in action twice a week. PAC will be at South Brunswick Tuesday.

Bill Chauncey and Pete Cook will manage the Princeton nine. Home games will be played on the Princeton High School field, since Brokaw's has been plowed under by the University for the construction of tennis courts.

Ted Lubas of Harlingen will manage Montgomery, which is sponsored by the Township Recreation Association. South Brunswick is backed by the Recreation Council in that municipality and uses the community diamond in Monmouth Junction as its home field. Dick Spilatore is the 1959 manager, assisted by Dan Cilo.

SEASONAL REFURBISHING UNDER WAY: Irving S. Schuessler and John Schuessler, both of Trenton, have just completed repainting the community pool of the River Road Recreation Association. The pool has been prepared for the opening of its sixth season on Saturday and will be open from 10 to 8 daily and 1:30 to 5 on Sundays through Labor Day. (Town Topics Photo by Alan Richards) pleted his first year at Princeton High School.

Other awards will be made to scouts who have advanced within the last month. They include: first class scout: Bruce Beddoe, Perry Benson and Gary Hines; second class scout: Robert Anderson, John Homrighausen and Douglas Watson.

FIELD DAY SLATED

By PBA. The first annual Field Day sponsored by the Petrolmen's Benevolent Association will be held Thursday, June 18, at 1 p.m. on the Princeton High School athletic field. The field day will climax youth activities conducted under direction of the PBA.

Feature of the program will be a track meet between students of the Borough and Township schools. Boys and girls from grades 4 through 8 will compete by grades in a 50-yard dash, running broad jump, softball throw, eight-man quarter-mile relay and softball games. An obstacle race and novelty races will be held for students in grades 1 through 3.

Prizes will be awarded to winners of the 50-yard dash, running broad jump and softball throw. The entire program is open to the public. Refreshments will be served free of charge.

CUBS HOLD PICNIC

Awards Are Given. Cub Scout Pack 50 concluded its activities for the current school year with a picnic and baseball game at Marquand Park. The scoring award was presented to Den Three which had won the most points during the year. Members of the den are George Bates, Stephen Beason, Christopher Bush, Alan Downer, Carl Morgenstern and Peter Starbuck.

Graduation presents were given to the Wehelos Den which next year will become a part of the boy scout troop. Members of the den include: George Alexander, James Bailey, Merrik Bailey, Laurence Benson, Theodore Green, Jonathan Batner, James Sayen, Elliot Starks and Karol Krotke.

Wolf badges were given to Samuel Walker and Carl Morgenstern. Bear badges were awarded to Terry Downer, Peter Starbuck, while Samuel McCleary and Stephen Benson received gold arrows. McCreary also received a silver arrow.

POOL OWNER'S SAFETY TIPS

Keep your pool water fresh and safe with CLOR-TABS

TRADE MARK

Help protect your children with CLOR-TABS in the special plastic dispensar. CLOR-TABS are handy tablets that release bacteria killing chlorine in the water. Use CLOR-TABS daily in the dispenser and suspend it in the pool according to instructions.

That's all you do to treat pool water so it will stay fresher longer . . . and help protect your children's health. You save money, too, because you'll change your pool water less frequently.

Available to you is an easy-to-use test kit for determining pH and chlorine content of the water. We have free for you a complete POOL OWNER'S GUIDE to help you enjoy a more healthful pool. Ask for one.

CLOR-TABS come in 7½ pound packages. CLOR-TABS are made by Pennsalt Chemicals, famous for quality chemicals for more than a century.

Custom Built Homes In Princeton's Western Section

Just Minutes From Town on Princeton Pike Mercer Road

These homes are custom built in the true sense of the word with an eye to the finite details that go to make for a truly custom home, and of course, provisions were made for complete air-conditioning. All houses are on lots of over an acre completely and individually landscaped and have oversized two-car garages. These homes are priced at close to builder's cost and well below the market.

80-Foot Ranch - (Under Construction) - Situated on a lovely high lot. Enter a large, gracious reception foyer; then see the spacious living room with a fireplace and lovely bow picture window - a mahogany panelled den with large glass sliding doors to your garden - full sized dining room and a separate breakfast room, both with picture bow windows - an extremely modern kitchen with all built in appliances - laundry room - 3 oversized bedrooms - 2½ baths - and a full basement. Priced below market $43,500.

2-Story Colonial - 4 bedrooms - 2 baths and a guest powder room - delightful living room with glass sliding doors leading to an outdoor dining patio - and a dream kitchen completely equipped to make your mundane daily chores a pleasant daily interlude. Priced to sell quickly. $44,500.

94-Foot Ranch - (Under Construction) - Situated on a corner lot - 3 large bedrooms - 2½ baths, one bath with double basin vanity - large living room with fireplace and built in bookcases - panelled library or den - dining room - separate breakfast room, both with large bay windows and a completely equipped modern kitchen - laundry room and a large basement. Nothing in the area like it at $44,500.

2-Story Southern Colonial - (Under Construction) - majestically sitting in a group of lovely old trees atop a knoll with its 2 story white columns on a 40 foot portico against a background of old brick is a picture home one must see. 4 oversized bedrooms - 2 baths and a beautifully appointed guest powder room - large living room with a fireplace - mahogany panelled library - full dining room - separate breakfast room - fully equipped kitchen with all birch cabinets and a large laundry and utility room - also a full basement. This home priced at $47,500 is probably Princeton's biggest bargain.

Open House — Saturdays and Sundays 1:30 - 5:00 P.M., or can be seen by appointment. Just 'phone New York City, Oxford 7-3646 (9 a.m. to 5 p.m.) or Princeton, Walnut 1-6592 (Eve.) or contact your own broker.

HOUSEWELL HIDEAWAY
for $21,500

A newly-wed or retired couple's dream come true is this sweet early American farmhouse set on four lovely peaceful acres with old trees, fine shrubs, original stone well house and a nice barn. Remodeled from attic to basement with taste and loving care, the house with its three bedrooms, living and dining rooms is all appealing, but the kitchen is positively breath-taking. An open fireplace warms, figuratively and literally, the charmingly decorated, roomy kitchen, while the working area is the latest word in efficiency. And when our newly-weds become parents, there is even an enclosed porch off the kitchen that would make a perfect playroom!

TWO LINE TEASERS

Excellent small house, 3 b.r., screened porch, basement playroom. $23,500.

Riverside, 3 b.r., 2 baths, rec room, screened patio, trees. $31,500.
